Invest in the Future

Grand President Edward H. Hammond, Emporia State University '66, lives with his wife, Vivian, in Hays, Kansas, where he is the president of Fort Hays State University. Before being elected Grand President at the 2001 Grand Chapter Conclave, Hammond served as Grand Secretary on the National Board of Directors for eight years and as a board member for 12 years.

Letter from the Grand President

Dear Brothers and Friends of SigEp,

This issue of The Journal is a special one. Besides the usual good articles and chapter information, it also serves as the Annual Report of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation. In 2002, the Foundation will devote slightly more than $1 million to support the educational pursuits of our undergraduate brothers. Take the time to find your chapter in the list of donors and send a note of thanks to your SigEp Brothers who have contributed and supported our SigEp dreams. Also take note of what the Educational Foundation is supporting. The story is a dynamic one and critical to the future of our Fraternity.

For example, this issue tells of Foundation funded programs that have resulted in the most dynamic leadership education programming in the fraternity world. The National Leadership Committee has developed a leadership program continuum that features:

- New Member Camps to orient our youngest and newest brothers to the demands and pressures of college life that are empowering them to make smarter choices earlier in college.
- Carlson Leadership Academies, the oldest and most distinguished chapter officer training program in the fraternity world.
- The summer Ruck Leadership Institute that brings our most promising undergraduate leaders to the University of Richmond Jepson School of Leadership Studies for a high-intensity, interactive learning experience every summer.

- The Quest to Greece rounds out the leadership development continuum in a summer study abroad program in Greece for college credit.

Our Foundation has made a bold commitment, knowing these impressive programs are worthy of support. My frustration comes from being limited in the number of undergraduates we can reach with these programs. Your great support this year will allow us to double the number of participants in the Ruck Leadership Institute and the Quest to Greece study abroad program, but with 14,000 undergraduates, we could reach so many more.

Try to figure out a way that you can invest in the SigEp dream. Henry David Thoreau once said, "I know of no more encouraging fact than the unquestionable ability of man to elevate his life by conscious endeavor." Use this special issue of the SigEp Journal to focus your conscious endeavors. Remember your past, celebrate our present, and invest in the future, Sigma Phi Epsilon's second century.

As the Grand President of our Fraternity I want to take this opportunity to thank you and the many volunteers of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, the officers and Trustees that donate their time and resources so that we will have the finances to achieve our dreams.

Best wishes for a very productive and enjoyable summer.

Sincerely yours,

Edward H. Hammond
Grand President

100 Years of Leadership: SigEp Athletes

In our next issue of the Journal, we will continue our five-part series on 100 Years of Leadership. The focus will be on SigEp athletes, including Purdue Basketball Coach Gene Keady, Kansas State '58, and their contributions to sports.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation is proud to support Sigma Phi Epsilon and its pursuit of the Balanced Man. When you give to the Foundation, you invest in the ideas and programs that make a difference. This Forum features two Foundation donors who have integrated Sound Mind and Sound Body into their own lives.

Becoming A More Balanced Man

William F. Maloney, Ph.D.
Delaware '68, is a professor and chair of the Department of Civil Engineering at the University of Kentucky.

During his term as Grand President, Bill Tragos talked about how a fraternity must be more than a group of friends. A fraternity must be a group of brothers who care about the physical, mental, and emotional development of one another.

Prior to the 2001 Conclave, I spent a long weekend in Maine with several of my brothers from Delaware Alpha. At the time, I weighed 321 lbs. and was unable to walk more than ten minutes without difficulty. This was a result of undergoing 13 orthopedic surgeries, including eight knee operations and not paying attention to what and how much I ate.

Consequently, I had developed Type II diabetes, high cholesterol, and high blood pressure. I was taking nine medications including insulin and I was a heart attack waiting to happen.

At the end of the weekend, two of my brothers, Dave T. Videon, Delaware '68, and Edric R. Mason, Delaware '68, told me how concerned they were about my health.

On August 22, I began a medically supervised, very low calorie diet. I've since lost 115 lbs. and now walk four miles a night for exercise. I no longer take insulin and am now taking only two medications. I feel like a new man.

I began to be aware of SigEp's Balanced Man while faculty advisor to the SigEp chapter at the University of Maryland at College Park and as faculty advisor and chapter counselor for our chapter at the University of Kentucky.

The idea that the body is the vessel of the mind as the ancient Greeks believed began to resonate with me. Due to my health problems, I was not able to do the things I wanted to do. The Balanced Man made me understand I had to take control of what was happening to my body in order to make better use of my mind.

I believe the Balanced Man is critical to everyone's life, but particularly to our undergraduates and younger alumni.

We need to begin laying a foundation for life while we are in college. The Balanced Man provides the vehicle for doing that and we need to continue to promote it in Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Sound Mind And Sound Body Motivates Alumnus

John M. George, Auburn '76, is a member of the Educational Foundation's Board of Governors. He has recently established an endowment with the Foundation for the Balanced Man Scholarship to benefit all of the chapters in Alabama.

In November of 2001, I celebrated the 30th anniversary of my initiation into Sigma Phi Epsilon at Auburn University.

I have had the opportunity during those 30 years to work with several undergraduate chapters and Alumni and Volunteer Corporations, as well as participate in Conclaves and Carlson Leadership Academies.

While my continued activity with the Fraternity in general and undergraduates in particular has been, by some friends and family, attributed to their feeling that my theme song is "Still Crazy After All These Years," the reality is that I still benefit from active participation with SigEp.

On one hand it is fun. I enjoy the undergraduates, and as the father of four daughters, SigEps are "my boys."

SigEp is a leader in developing programs that encourage and help our members to live our Ritual and to become Balanced Leaders for the World's Communities. Exposure to these programs has helped me to continue to be aware of what I need to do and be.

Our Balanced Man initiative, which did not exist when I was an undergraduate, reminds me, as I get older, of the importance of maintaining a Sound Mind in a Sound Body.

The continual exposure to the Sound Mind and Sound Body concept over the last several years helped motivate me last November to step out into the adventure of attending Men's Health Week at the Canyon Ranch in Arizona.

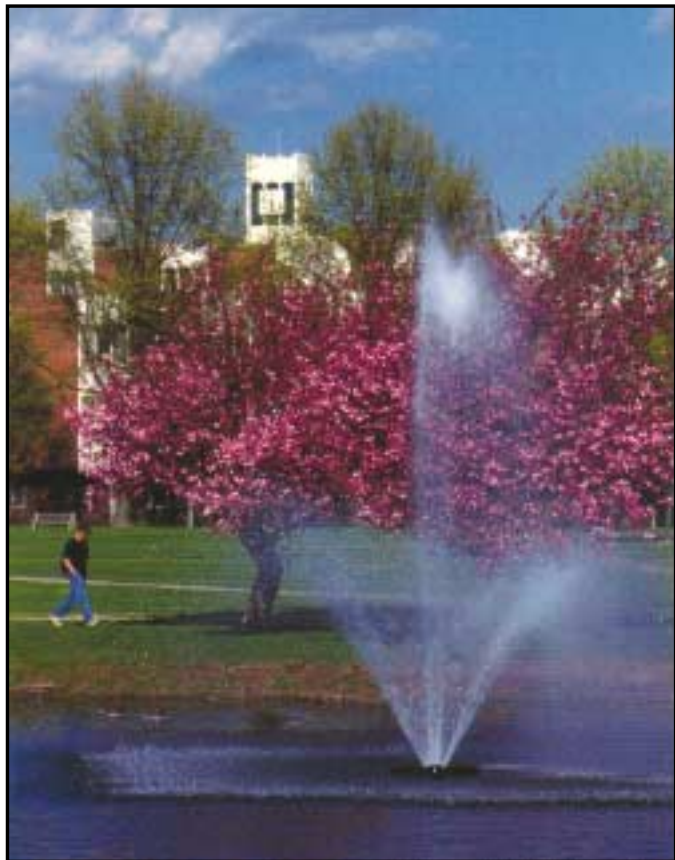

The week was physically rigorous, but also rejuvenating and inspiring, and I am glad I went. It reminded me of many SigEp experiences. A group of men (about 20) were learning and working together toward common goals that would be of great individual benefit to each of us.

About the only thing that could have made it better is if it had been 20 SigEps working together toward our Balanced Man ideal. Who knows, maybe that is next.

THE GROWTH OF EXCELLENCE

Rider, New Jersey Zeta—February 2, 2002

Sigma Phi Epsilon at Rider University is the elite fraternity on campus. The New Jersey Zeta Chapter has the highest admittance standards of any fraternity on campus and is known by students and faculty alike as an academically oriented organization—not as “frat boys” (more than one-third of the chapter is affiliated with various honor societies and organizations).

The Chapter and Its History

The SigEp chapter at Rider was founded in the Summer of 1996. A group of gentlemen wanted to change the face of the Greek system at Rider and looked into introducing a new fraternity to campus. They wanted something other than the normal, stereotypical “frat boy” group. They wanted to be different. They wanted to be SigEps. They wanted to be Balanced Men.

Living the Balanced Man Ideal

The chapter is also very much involved in athletics, rounding out the members’ desire to strive for a sound mind and sound body.

Chapter President Chris Smith, Rider ‘02, has put together a Balanced Man Journal for each member of the chapter to set goals and track progress. The Journal also contains tips for effective workouts and 100 percent of the chapter members are using the Journal during their weekly workout sessions.

Varsity athletes are also attracted to what New Jersey Zeta is offering to the Rider campus. In the recent months, a varsity soccer player, a varsity track and cross-country member and a varsity lacrosse player have joined the SigEp chapter.

Volunteer Support

Credit for the success of the chapter can definitely be placed, not only with the undergraduates, but also with the dynamite volunteer group the chapter has to support it. Alumni and Volunteer Corporation (A&VC) members such as Patrick Corrigan, Rider ‘97, David Keenan, Rider ‘96, Gregory Overend, Director of Greek Affairs at Rider University, William Seneres, Rider ‘97, Michael Curto, Rider ‘99, and Brett Danko, University of Pennsylvania ‘90, are important and vital parts of New Jersey Zeta’s success.

The Chapter House

In recognition of the chapter’s high academic achievement and campus leadership, the chapter recently received university housing in a Greek-themed house. The chapter is making plans to implement the Residential Learning Community in the coming months.

THE GROWTH OF EXCELLENCE

Southwest Missouri State, Missouri Eta—February 23, 2002

RIGHT: The Southwest Missouri State University campus is in Springfield, Missouri, located about two hours southeast of Kansas City.

In the year prior to the chapter's re-chartering, the newly re-installed Missouri Eta Chapter set some lofty goals to ensure re-chartering in 2002.

Chapter members worked hard to reach their goals and ended up exceeding them. One of the goals was to increase the chapter's manpower. They did that and then some, more than doubling the size of the chapter in less than a year.

The Chapter and Its History

The Missouri Eta Chapter at Southwest Missouri State University was originally chartered in 1957. The charter was removed in 1996 due to violations of national bylaws. Now, this chapter with a long history is back on the SMSU campus and stronger than ever.

The chapter with 60 men and growing is also third in academics with a 3.00 GPA.

Living the Balanced Man Ideal

The SigEp chapter at SMSU embraces the Balanced Man ideal of building a sound mind and a sound body with a plan for the entire chapter that ensures balance between academics and athletics.

An example of this is the chapter's dedication to maintaining a high academic standard. Upon joining the chapter, each member must meet with current Chapter Counselor and past Faculty Advisor Caron Dougherty to discuss academic goals, study skills and expectations of college.

The chapter also hosts regular study hours and a sound mind and sound body series featuring guest speakers addressing issues relating to the Balanced Man ideal.

Volunteer Support

The SMSU chapter has an active Alumni and Volunteer Corporation (A&VC), which includes university faculty, administration and Missouri Eta alumni. The A&VC is currently working on funding for the construction of a house.

The Chapter House

The A&VC owns two lots on Greek Row. Currently, the A&VC plans to have a house completely constructed on those lots by 2003. The chapter will be temporarily housed across from these lots.

Although for many chapters a house is a great recruitment tool, the SMSU chapter has been successful using the campus Student Union as its meeting place. The school has been helpful in making sure the chapter has the same room every week for meetings and study halls.

The Campus Environment

SMSU is a public institution that was founded in 1905. The school boasts students from 47 states and 66 countries and an impressive faculty, 81 percent of whom have a Ph.D.

Southwest Missouri State has a Greek population of about 10 percent on a campus of 13,000 students.

Clarkson, New York Chi—April 6, 2002

The Clarkson chapter began as a fraternity composed of scholar athletes. Since establishment, the members have only improved on that situation. They are growing as a chapter and as individuals, which is why they joined SigEp in the first place.

The Chapter and Its History

The chapter was founded in the Fall of 2000 and since that time has grown and improved in every aspect of fraternal life.

The chapter began with 10 men and now has 46, the largest chapter on campus. Academically it is also tops on campus with a 3.26 GPA, well above the all-campus average of 2.85.

Living the Balanced Man Ideal

Upon joining the chapter, all members are expected to attend one fine arts event to expand their view of the arts. However, this is not a one-time thing. It is expected of every member throughout his SigEp experience and throughout each challenge of the four-year membership development process.

Volunteer Support

Volunteers for the chapter include numerous faculty, administration and staff of Clarkson University. Kelsie B. Harder, Youngstown State '56, is the president of the Alumni and Volunteer Corporation and a professor at Potsdam State. Faculty Advisor Kate Tessier, the Director of Residential Life at Clarkson University, and her husband, Matt, an area high school teacher and coach, have been very active with the A&VC.

The chapter also has a great amount of support from Willi Steinrotter, the Clarkson University varsity soccer coach. Steinrotter was attracted to the volunteer opportunity with SigEp due to the Balanced Man Program providing balance to his work in student athletics. He focuses on the Balanced Man principles with his soccer team, of which 16 are members of the SigEp chapter.

The Chapter House

Chapter members live together in a residence hall on campus through a partnership with the university. The chapter is the only one on campus to receive this opportunity.

Within five years, the university plans to build student organization housing on campus, and due to its high academic standards and achievements, the Clarkson SigEp chapter is a leading candidate for this housing opportunity.

The Campus Environment

Located in Potsdam, New York, about 15 miles from the U.S.-Canadian border, Clarkson is a center for great learning as well as the best in outdoor activities due to close proximity to the Adirondack Mountains. The campus consists of 2,400 students, of which 28 percent are affiliated with Greek organizations. Clarkson prides itself on excellent academic standards through the example of its faculty, 94 percent of whom have a Ph.D.

RED DOOR NOTES

CHAPTER HOUSE PROFILES

The tradition of the red door on Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter houses began on the campus of Syracuse University (New York Alpha) in 1928. It is one of the Fraternity's earliest chapters that showed the world how different our Fraternity would be. Those original red doors are shown to the right. It is a tradition that every SigEp chapter house has a red door to welcome all brothers.

University of Nebraska Nebraska Alpha

- The Alumni and Volunteer Corporation is in the midst of a $1.2 million capital fund-raising campaign. This summer, a new roof and new plumbing will be installed throughout the circa-1926 house.
- At the conclusion of the fall semester, the house will be temporarily closed so that all the bedrooms may be converted to suites, featuring both sleeping and study rooms.

Washington State University Washington Alpha

- Built in 1928, this 62-man chapter house is one of SigEp's oldest fraternity houses west of the Mississippi River.
- In the past year, volunteers, with the help of the chapter and the Alumni and Volunteer Corporation, have installed new dining room tables, repaved the parking lot and wired the entire house for high-speed Internet access.

University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill North Carolina Delta

- The NC Delta house, built in 1983, has recently undergone a face-lift. The Alumni and Volunteer Corporation recently put in a $120,000 sprinkler system to protect the members and the house.
- Alumni also replaced all the windows and doors in the house.

University of Pennsylvania Pennsylvania Delta

- Built in 1898, Pennsylvania Delta's house will soon undergo a major $1.5 million renovation to the interior.
- Renovation plans include building a new library and weight room, three new bedrooms, a new dining room and creation of a courtyard.
- The house is located in the heart of Philadelphia. The chapter and Alumni and Volunteer Corporation have committed to making the Residential Learning Community part of the renovation plans.

THE PHI BETA KAPPA WHEELHOUSE

GOING BEYOND PHI BETA KAPPA

Fall 2001

Even though all chapters have yet to report, the following SigEp chapters with cumulative GPAs of a 3.15 or higher for Fall, 2001, are in the Phi Beta Kappa Wheelhouse. Phi Beta Kappa's minimum GPA requirement is a 3.5 and these chapters are within 10 percent of that standard with a 3.15 GPA or higher.

Rutgers

The SigEps at Rutgers make it to the Wheelhouse by focusing on the chapter culture. It is an expectation that all members will perform well scholastically. Brothers with the most improved and best GPAs are rewarded with financial incentives. The chapter members rely on each other to study, and there is a lot of self-motivation. Matthew J. Leonardelli '03 and Steven S. Vosbikian '04 are both Hicks Scholars. Jason E. Shao '03 is a recipient of the Dulin Scholarship. By taking advantage of these resources, it is easy to see why the chapter has been first out of 22 fraternities for the past four semesters.

Columbia

At Columbia, outstanding academic performance begins with recruitment. New York Phi finds the "blue chips" with the Balanced Man Scholarship. By recruiting the smartest men, it ensures academics come first. Once these men are members, the chapter mentors them toward shaping the best life, academically, physically, and beyond. New York Phi has maintained a GPA greater than a 3.4 since it was chartered in 1996.

St. Louis University

48 percent of Missouri Nu's members have above a 3.5. The reason? Missouri Nu does a good job of recruiting members who are diligent in their studies. The chapter is not afraid to enforce its written academic standard of 2.75. Every brother who falls below a 2.75 is assigned an academic mentor. The primary goal of the mentor is to meet with his mentee once per week to provide resources and ideas on how to improve their academics. The chapter has written goals for academic performance.

Nebraska

Nebraska Alpha SigEps use a designated study space and consistently make it into the Wheelhouse. The study room on the first floor of the chapter house is equipped with computers and a conference table. The chapter members use it every day, which creates an environment conducive to academic success. As a result, the chapter house is quiet on any given day, which makes it easy for the scholars to be successful.

Having the best grades is a goal for which every SigEp should strive. However, GPA is not simply a tangible marker for academic performance. It reflects an environment that fosters the development of a Sound Mind. Chapters achieve the best grades not through monitored study hours or constant grade checks, but through a commitment to mentoring each other to stretch their minds to their fullest potential, both in and out of the classroom. Outstanding grades result from a consistent Sound Mind message and quality environment throughout the chapter. The chapters above have emphasized Sound Mind as a foundation for their programming. Chapters in Phi Beta Kappa's Wheelhouse have at least a 3.15 GPA.

Welcome to the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation

This issue of the Journal is our Thank-You to Donors and a Report on the Progress of the programs they make possible.

The following pages are filled with information about the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation. Some of you already know about the Foundation; some are discovering this information for the first time.

Ben Naylor, Iowa '02, is a National Competition Scholar.

You will read about current and future programming to build balanced men.

We look to the future and believe that donations to the Foundation are investments. You will hear from those who have benefitted from these programs first-hand.

There are lists of who has given. There are lists of who has given a lot. There are descriptions of programs. There are plans for the future. There is even a middle section we hope you will pull out and keep.

Ben Rayland, Syracuse '03, will be attending the 2002 Ruck Leadership Institute.

Most of all, we want you to gain a greater understanding of your Fraternity's Foundation and how important it is to Sigma Phi Epsilon and to the world's communities. The Foundation is investing its money behind the idea of Sound Mind and Sound Body to provide the best experience possible to Sigma Phi Epsilon's undergraduates.

Garry C. Kief, USC '70, is President and CEO of Stiletto Entertainment, a musical entertainment management company based in Los Angeles. He has been a Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation Trustee since 1991. He has served as the Foundation's Secretary for the last eight years and was elected Chairman in 2001. He also serves on the National Board of Directors for Sigma Phi Epsilon.

What Can We Do?

Dear Brothers and Friends of SigEp,

When I graduated from USC in 1970, I figured my fraternity days were behind me. Like so many of my peers, I had a great time. But it was time to move on. Good friends. Good parties. Goodbye.

My focus quickly shifted to Basic Training, starting a family; finding a job.

Twenty years later I attended my first Conclave. That was my first exposure to the national Fraternity and the new Sigma Phi Epsilon. As an undergraduate, I don't recall even knowing that a national Fraternity existed. As an alumnus, I was probably more curious than committed.

For years I had found that if I sent Chuck White $100 in response to his first annual plea for donations, he would leave me alone for another year. In a similar vein, I accepted his invitation to attend a Conclave.

Awestruck would be an understatement. For someone who had always assumed that there would be no meaningful contributors to society by the time I needed to apply for Social Security, I was amazed. Here were 1,000 kids who were educated, polite, athletic, interesting, productive, and concerned. And, they spoke in complete sentences. Maybe there was hope, after all.

The more I got involved, the more I realized what a positive impact SigEp had on their lives.

The concept of living a balanced life had become their mantra. Their compassion, concern, and commitment not only to their brothers, but also to their families, their faith, their community and their country had become second nature.

They looked forward to attending the Carlson Leadership Academy, they competed for a Buchanan Cup, they hoped their grades were good enough for a Zollinger Scholarship, and they crossed their fingers that they might be selected for the Summer Ruck Leadership Institute.

All of these programs have such an amazing impact on their lives. Today we can add the Quest to Greece, the Residential Learning Community, and the SigEp New Member Camps as further incentives to truly build better men, a better Fraternity and a better country.

My friends in the entertainment industry often roll their eyes and wonder what's happening to our country and its young people. "What can we do?" they ask. I know what we can do.

We can cross our fingers and hope they all become SigEps.

We can volunteer our time.

We can donate our dollars.

Whether your donation to the Educational Foundation is $100 or $100,000, I hope you realize what a wonderful impact you're having on the lives of your 14,000 undergraduate Brothers. I hope you're able to attend a Conclave and see for yourself. I hope you're able to join in at the next Carlson Leadership Academy or visit the SigEp chapter nearest you. I think you'll share my amazement.

There's a whole new Fraternity and a whole new crop of SigEps. Sure, they look like the kids you see on MTV. But they have morals, and standards, aspirations and goals that will make you proud.

To all of you who make that possible, thank you.

Fraternally,

Some of us think it is part of “Headquarters” or an arm of “Nationals.” Some see it as a tremendous resource, and others don’t really understand it at all. So what is the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation?

Where did it come from and what does it do?

The Foundation is classified by the Internal Revenue Service as a 501(c)(3) public charitable and educational foundation.

It shares space with the Fraternity in the Zollinger House National Headquarters and works closely with the Fraternity staff daily to ensure the dollars alumni give are put to educational use.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation has changed over the years. It was first incorporated in the District of Columbia on December 17, 1943, as the William L. Phillips Foundation, after “Uncle Billy” left a large portion of his estate to the Foundation.

As the assets of the Foundation grew beyond the Phillips estate, the name was changed to reflect its special relationship to the scholarship and leadership activities and programs of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

On March 12, 1962, it was incorporated in Virginia as the William L. Phillips Foundation of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. Nine years later, in 1971, the name was changed to the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation is the vehicle through which resources are concentrated to meet the changing needs of today’s undergraduate brothers.

The Foundation provides a variety of benefits to individual brothers and a wealth of support to the Fraternity (for 2002, the Foundation has committed over $1 million in support of the Fraternity’s leadership and scholarship programs).

The Foundation is governed by a Board of Trustees. These alumni are not only Foundation donors, but are true groundbreakers in their own career fields.

From the Chairman Emeritus of Merrill Lynch, William A. Schreyer, to the owner of the Texas Rangers and Dallas Stars, Thomas O. Hicks, the Trustees bring real world expertise to the Foundation.

Working with Foundation President Chuck White, the Trustees have guided the Foundation to what it is today: the biggest and brightest in the fraternity world.

All that the Fraternity is doing to make important changes is supported by the Trustees and propelled by the support of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation.

Key Terms:

Endowment Funds are established by the gift of one donor or by a select group of donors for a specific purpose. The amount gifted is never spent; it produces income in perpetuity to fund the purpose for which the endowment is established.

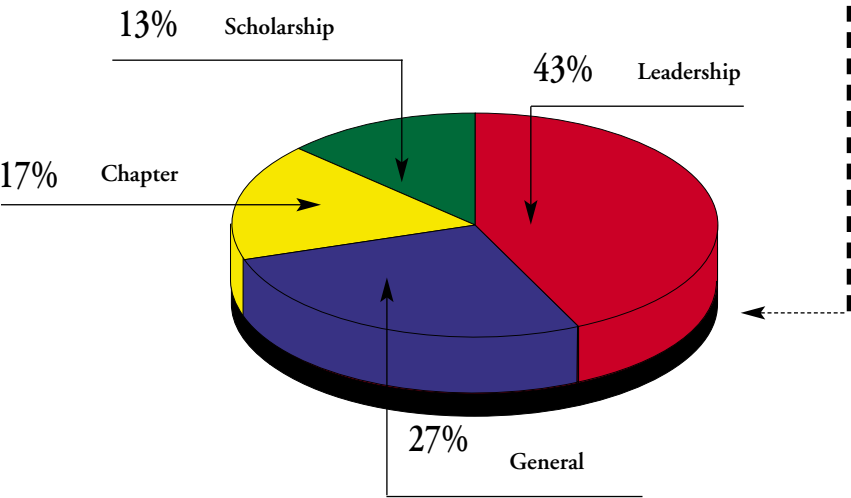

Chapter Scholarship Funds are established by a large group of donors over an extended period of time. The amount gifted is treated like an endowment producing an annual return that is available to the chapter's Alumni and Volunteer Corporation for educational programs.

Temporarily Restricted Assets are gifted for a specific purpose to be accomplished in a relatively short period of time. The funds are held by the Foundation until used to accomplish the purpose for which they are gifted.

General Funds are the unrestricted assets of the Foundation. They are gifted through regular giving by alumni, parents and friends to fund grants for Sigma Phi Epsilon that assist with the development and execution of scholarship and leadership programs that benefit all chapters.

2000 vs. 2001 Total Donations

The Foundation ended 2001 with a very encouraging level of support from alumni beginning in late October.

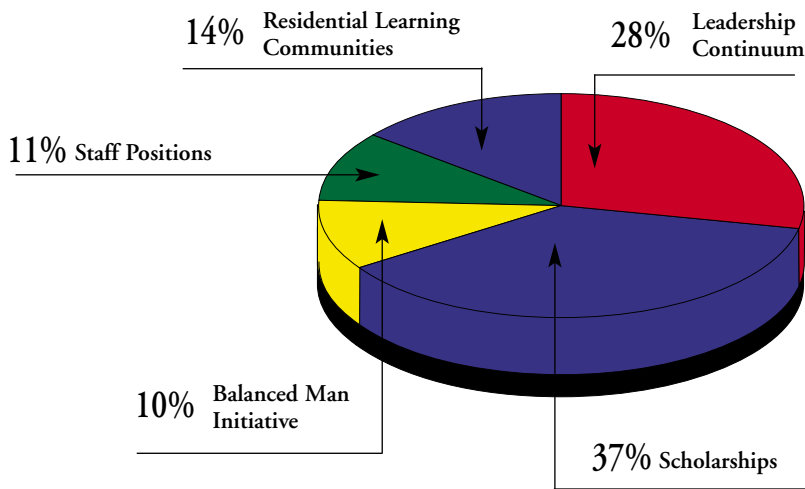

This surge of interest and support gave us a 30 percent increase in contributions for 2001 compared to 2000. The Educational Foundation funded $800,000 in scholarship and leadership grants with leadership grants supporting:

- Development of New Member Camps,
- The Carlson Leadership Academies,
- The Residential Learning Communities,
- The Balanced Man Initiative,
- The Zollinger House staff positions: Director of Residential Life and Director of Substance Abuse Education,
- The Ruck Leadership Institute,
- The Quest to Greece, and
- The Resident Scholars program.

The idea that foundations are slow to try new things is a myth at SigEp. Your Foundation is on the cutting edge: the development of supporting programs that make the Balanced Man come to life for our undergraduates and alumni.

What Is An Endowment?

Following the successful $7 million endowment campaign, The Campaign for the Heart conducted in 1991-1993, the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation had a permanent resource to bolster its support for Sigma Phi Epsilon scholarship and leadership programs. With 66 percent of today's assets in endowments, the Foundation combines these important resources with regular support from alumni, parents and friends to provide major grants for Sigma Phi Epsilon undergraduate programs.

Endowments are permanently restricted assets of the Foundation. Normally established by a single donor, they may also be established by a small group of alumni or a family to honor or memorialize a key alumnus or family member.

Family Endowments

SigEp families have provided important endowments to supply funding in an area of the Fraternity they feel is especially important.

Three family endowments demonstrate the importance of the Foundation's endowment program as a way to provide an avenue for supporting important work that interests the donors and to permanently recognize an alumnus for whom Sigma Phi Epsilon has been an important part of his life.

Zollinger Family

The Zollinger Endowment recognizes the relationship of Sigma Phi Epsilon to the life of J. Edward Zollinger, William and Mary '27.

Brother Zollinger was Sigma Phi Epsilon's Grand President from 1967-1971, and a Trustee of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation from 1962 until his death in 1976 at which time he was serving as Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

His wife Lucile, who died in 2001, was a regular Foundation donor. In 1990 she and her son John Zollinger, Lehigh '57, and daughter Frances made a $600,000 gift in honor of Brother Zollinger.

In recognition of this gift, the Fraternity's Headquarters in Richmond was named Zollinger House. The Zollinger family's lifetime giving to the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation totals $1,451,355.

The major portion of that was gifted to the Zollinger Endowment that supports the annual Zollinger Scholars program and grants to Sigma Phi Epsilon for the development of a new leadership initiative centered on the concept of the Balanced Man.

Roach Family

Lamar A. Roach, Sr., Lamar '60, and his family have established the Roach Family Endowment to fund a series of scholarships at seven different chapters in Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Michigan.

Brother Roach has used this endowment opportunity to recognize alumni who have made a special contribution to the Fraternity with a scholarship in their honor at the seven chapters. The Roach Family Endowment has a current value of $66,000.

Biddle Family

J. Tim Biddle, Colorado State '73, and his family have established two endowments, the Mary Ann and Joel S. Biddle Scholarship Endowment and the Biddle Family Endowment.

These two endowments, with a current value of $130,000, provide annual scholarships in memory of his parents, Mary Ann and Joel Biddle, and an annual grant for the development of new leadership programs centered around the Balanced Man.

How Do SigEp Endowments Work?

The endowments reported in this section are established by a single donor (including families) to provide annual support in a specific area or for a specific program, or to be used at the discretion of the Trustees of the Educational Foundation. In addition to establishing their own endowment, alumni, parents and friends can establish or support a wide variety of programs by making gifts earmarked for a specific program. These directed gifts can be used for current program funding or they can be added to an endowment for that program. If added to an endowment, the gift will never be spent. It will be invested and produce income year after year to fund the program.

If you are interested in providing support with a direct CD endowment gift, the Foundation staff will work with you to assure that your gift is used as intended. You can call 1-800-313-1901, extension 309, or write to us at P.O. Box 1901, Richmond, Virginia 23218.

Charitable Gift Annuities

The beauty of the Gift Annuity is that it provides the donor with lifetime income and establishes an endowment in his name after his death.

2001-2002 Hicks Scholars

The Thomas O. Hicks Endowment of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, established by Tom Hicks, University of Texas '68, funds Thomas O. Hicks Scholarships. When a sophomore in college at Texas, Sigma Phi Epsilon motivated Brother Hicks to get serious about his grades, which had suffered during his freshman year. In funding this special scholarship awards program, Brother Hicks intends to recognize and reward brothers who get on track with their grades with marked improvement with the additional goal of motivating SigEp undergraduates to achieve good academic performance. These scholarships go to a brother in his junior year who significantly improved his GPA in his sophomore year compared to his freshman year.

2001-2002 Zollinger Seniors

The Zollinger Senior Award is presented to the outstanding senior in each district of Sigma Phi Epsilon and is chosen by the District Governor for that region. These brothers represent the best of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Each Zollinger Senior chapter selects an outstanding sophomore, the Zollinger Scholar, who receives a scholarship from the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation in his junior and senior years. The Zollinger Scholars are chapter members who possess special potential for future leadership roles in the chapter and on campus. These awards are made possible by the generosity of Past Grand President, former Foundation Chairman, Order of the Golden Heart recipient J. Edward Zollinger, William & Mary '27.

J. Edward Zollinger, College of William & Mary '27, and his wife Lucile remembered the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation in their estate planning. As a result, over 700 brothers have benefited from the Zollinger Endowment with the Educational Foundation. The Zollinger's gift will continue to give for years to come.

To learn about remembering the Foundation in your estate, contact Chuck White at 804-353-1901 ext. 319, or via email at cnw1@mindspring.com.

Board of Governors Making a Difference.

What is it?

The Board of Governors is a group of alumni and friends who make an important annual unrestricted gift to help fund the Foundation's grant programs. This is Sigma Phi Epsilon's foremost alumni support group with almost 200 members.

What does it do?

Members of the Board of Governors make a minimum contribution of $1,000 annually to the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation to fund key Foundation programs and provide for ongoing development activities.

Why Join?

Our continued success demands that we succeed in changing the anti-scholastic reputation of fraternities. SigEp can do that by recruiting men with a serious purpose, men of character who come to school because they want to learn, and whose academic track records back their words. By joining the Board of Governors, you can be sure that your money is going directly to the programs that are impacting Sigma Phi Epsilon and our undergraduate Brothers in chapters across the country.

THE SIGMA PHI EPSILON
EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION'S

PASSPORT

TO PROGRESS

Your Guide to the Future

Educational Foundation: Who Are We?

You've heard the name. You might know it's somewhere in Richmond. You might even guess that it provides some kind of support to your Fraternity. But do you really know who we are? What we do?

Do you know how to contact your Foundation? How to request your funds? How to donate funds? How we can help you raise funds? Do you know why the Foundation's support is crucial to Sigma Phi Epsilon's success? Do you know how your support of the Foundation directly impacts the day-to-day experience of more than 14,000 undergraduate brothers each year?

Let's take a journey...a Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation Tour. You might be surprised to find out how much you already know.

Then again...you might not. But relax, it's painless. The tour is quick and easy... and this is your passport.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation is a 501(c)(3) charitable foundation. That means it's a non-profit foundation subject to very strict government controls to protect the thousands of gifts we receive each year. It also means those gifts are tax-deductible. Each and every year, your Foundation funds programs and awards that develop the scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and personal potential of more than 14,000 undergraduates on more than 265 campuses across America.

The Foundation's efforts support the Balanced Man ideal through the academic and leadership development of every SigEp. The Balanced Man ideal is the concept that a sound mind in a sound body makes for a better leader and person. This idea guides the programs that make Sigma Phi Epsilon special and different.

To learn more about any of the programs the Foundation makes possible, please contact the Foundation at 804-353-1901, ext. 309, or visit the Foundation web site at www.sigep.org/foundation. If any of these programs strike a chord, remember that they are all dependent on donations to make them possible. Your gifts can expand their reach.

How does your gift make a difference? ...

2002 Carlson Leadership Academy Participants

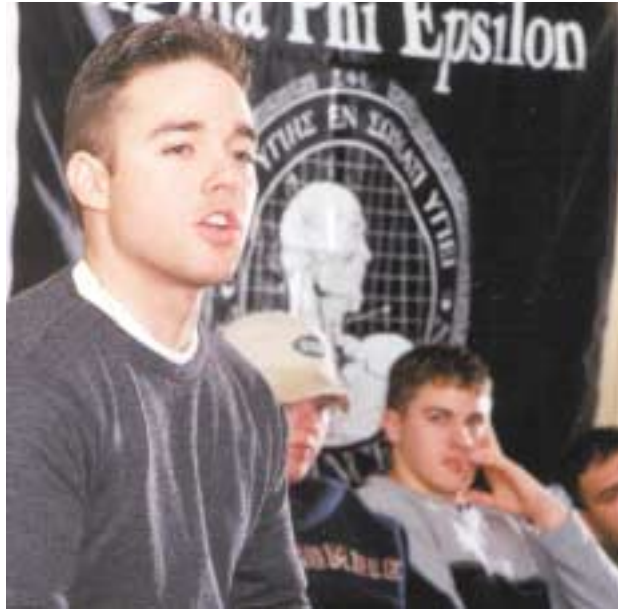

New Member Camp

The New Member Camp with a theme of “Building a Balanced You” brings critical information to new members during a 24-hour experience in a camp-like setting. The Camp helps Sigma Phi Epsilon’s newest members realize the opportunities that are available to them as members of the Fraternity. The emphasis is on smart decisions with an understanding of the damage that can come from developing unhealthy life habits.

Sigma Phi Epsilon’s Director of Substance Abuse Education, a staff position funded by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, manages this program.

“As a college freshman, this program has definitely helped me to start on the right foot. I’ve been able to make smart decisions for myself. These are the kind of programs we need to develop the product we want in the future, quality balanced men; the type of men that define SigEp.”

— Richard Peralta, DePaul ‘05

Paul Chabot, Cal State-San Bernardino '97. Paul works for the Office of the National Drug Control Policy and is seen here talking with new members about substance abuse.

Carlson Leadership Academies

The Carlson Leadership Academies are the cornerstone of Sigma Phi Epsilon’s chapter officer development. The program is an intense, two-day, officer-training program with an emphasis on smart, effective decision-making within the context of the chapter experience. The Academies highlight how the sound mind/sound body concept applies to such decision-making for the individual, the chapter, and the community. The Academies help to enhance the undergraduates’ ability to articulate the SigEp experience. This not only allows them to explain it to others, it also allows them to more fully understand how Sigma Phi Epsilon can benefit them.

Carlson Leadership Academies are held annually across the country. More than 2,000 undergraduates attend each year. Your Foundation has funded Leadership Academies for 30 years.

Participants in the 2001 Ruck Leadership Institute with SigEp Executive Director Craig Templeton

Ruck Leadership Institute

The Ruck Leadership Institute, hosted in cooperation with the University of Richmond, is Sigma Phi Epsilon’s premier leadership development experience. The Institute is a four-day program for exceptional undergraduates selected through an application process. Participants take part in a leadership forum through the nationally recognized Jepson School for Leadership Studies at the University of Richmond. They create action plans for a number of chapter scenarios, learn proper etiquette from etiquette specialists, and live the Balanced Man ideal with a sound mind and sound body activities. Participants learn from experts and from each other.

8 Ways to Invest

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation is a 501(c)(3) organization, and all donations are tax-deductible to the full extent of the law.

Cash: Cash is the most popular way to give. The Foundation gratefully accepts donations of cash, via check, money order or credit card. We currently accept Visa, MasterCard, and American Express.

... Your $500 gift can

Send a SigEp to the Ruck Institute

2.

Stock: Many alumni contribute appreciated securities they have held for more than one year. By making a gift of stock, alumni can eliminate capital gains taxes and receive a charitable income tax deduction equal to the full fair market value of the securities on the date of their contribution.

3.

Life Insurance: Some alumni value the great role SigEp has played in their lives and make the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation the beneficiary of their life insurance policy. Alumni can also transfer ownership of a life insurance policy to the Foundation and make an annual gift to continue premium payments. This gift provides an immediate tax deduction equal to the cash value of the policy at time of transfer and the annual gift of the premium is deductible in full.

... Your $500 gift can

Send four members of a chapter executive board to a
Carlson Leadership Academy

4.

Charitable Trusts: A sophisticated giving tool, trusts are stand-alone financial instruments to hold assets for someone's benefit. There is a large spectrum of trusts, including: Uni-Trusts, Annuity Trusts, and Lead Trusts.

Invest in the Future

...Your $250 gift can help purchase office equipment for a faculty office in a Residential Learning Community

- 5. Real Estate: When you contribute real estate to the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, you receive a charitable deduction for its full fair market value, and you pay no capital gains tax on increases in its value since you purchased it. What are you really doing with that extra house by the pond? Why not put its value to good use through a scholarship program or by supporting Sigma Phi Epsilon's substance abuse programming.

...Your $250 gift can develop a Sound Mind and Sound Body program for a chapter

- 6. 401(K): Do you have a 401(K) account that is doing nothing? There are different tax benefits depending on the account and its value when you contribute its assets as a gift, designate it as a trust, or make the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation the beneficiary of the 401(K).
- 7. Gift Annuity: Depending on your age and the amount you would like to contribute, a gift annuity may be ideal for you. With a contractual agreement between you and the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, an annuity can guarantee you a fixed income for life in exchange for money or assets you transfer to the Foundation.
- 8. Estate Planning: More and more alumni and friends choose to reach beyond their lives to give to the future by making a bequest to the Foundation in their will. Depending on the tax rate, some estates are subject to more than a 70% tax. Gifts to the Foundation are deductible in determining the value of your estate and can reduce your estate tax liability.

Residential Learning Communities

Georgia's Faculty Fellow, Victor Wilson, Renaissance '99

...Your $1,000 gift can furnish a chapter library giving SigEps a quiet place to study.

Tearing out the bars and converting our chapter homes to Residential Learning Communities is consistent with the way students today value the college experience. A Sigma Phi Epsilon Residential Learning Community is a place where faculty members known as Faculty Fellows hold office hours in the chapter facility and where members have a high quality living, learning experience. Some SigEp Residential Learning Communities actually have university faculty teach classes in their facilities! Residential Learning Communities may receive grants from the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation to tear out bars and other remnants of the "frat boy" mentality to build study areas, faculty offices and computer libraries.

This takes the Fraternity one step further than the Foundation's long-standing Resident Scholar program that places a graduate student with leadership experience in a chapter other than his own. The Resident Scholar program continues as an important element in the Residential Learning Community. SigEp's Director of Residential Life, a position funded by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, manages the program.

...Your $1,500 gift can send an undergraduate on the Quest to Greece.

The Quest to Greece

The Quest to Greece is a 10-day pilgrimage through the ruins of Ancient Greece, an exploration of all aspects of the Balanced Man, Sound Mind/Sound Body and its relationship to the essence of Greek-letter fraternities.

Participants are selected through an application process for a scholarship that requires course work during the trip for university credit hours.

Undergraduates learn about the origin of the Balanced Man ideal while sitting on the steps of the Parthenon and walking through the ruins of the culture where the Balanced Man ideal was born.

"Once in Greece, I realized that the Balanced Man was not created in 1992, nor did he come with our Fraternity's birth in 1901. The Balanced Man philosophy goes beyond our shores and our times. The Quest to Greece helped me realize that history is full of men looking to achieve the same goals and aspirations that we, as SigEps, strive toward."

Is Your Chapter Using All Its Resources?

Every chapter in Sigma Phi Epsilon has a chapter fund held by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation. When a chapter's fund has a balance of $2,500 or more, that chapter can use the fund's annual return for scholarships and leadership awards.

Some chapters use their funds for their Balanced Man Scholarship programs; others use their funds for scholarships that recognize brothers with outstanding GPAs; still others use their funds to help purchase equipment for chapter libraries and study areas.

Each fund is governed by a working agreement. The working agreement is set up by the chapter's Alumni & Volunteer Corporation and the Foundation and outlines specifically how the fund may be used. Many chapters have more than one fund and some have endowments set up for their benefit by alumni and friends. A complete list may be viewed at www.sigep.org/foundation.

...Your $2,500 gift can send five new members to New Member Camp and increase your chapter's scholarship fund.

How Is the Money Held?

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation is able to give a tremendous amount of money each year to support the Fraternity and in scholarships to members across the country. How is this possible? The donations of alumni and friends are a huge help, but it goes beyond donations to smart money management. This may seem a little complicated, but it is pretty simple and is a tremendous asset to local chapters and to the Fraternity.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation holds many endowments and funds for specific purposes and individual chapters. (Over 400 distinct endowments and funds!) The Pooled Investment Fund (PIF) combines all of these and operates like a mutual fund. Each endowment and chapter fund holds shares that represent its investment in the PIF.

When a contribution is made to a chapter's fund, the chapter's fund purchases PIF shares at the current share value. When an award or grant is made from the chapter's fund, shares are redeemed at the current share value to produce the funds for that distribution. These are the transactions that change the number of shares a fund holds.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation

Our Fraternity is doing something really important, something that no other campus organization is doing. As Sigma Phi Epsilon successfully brings to life the Balanced Man concept – Sound Mind/Sound Body – it is poised to become a strong influence on the lives of its 14,000 undergraduate Brothers.

New members tell us that they join our Fraternity because SigEp is proud of the right things, the important things, each individual SigEp is learning how to live his best life.

This is why we believe that your contribution has never been more important. We are asking you to support the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation...the Foundation that supports our Fraternity.

Who Gave in 2001?

In the aftermath of September 11, all of us voiced our concern, not only for the future of our world and our country, but also for our families, our friends, and our Fraternity. One of the positive changes has been the renewed support for the Fraternity and its Foundation. Donors are surprising us with contributions of $1,000-$5,000-$10,000. Along with those contributions come letters of appreciation for the meaningful impact the Fraternity is having on the lives of 14,000 outstanding undergraduate members across the country. With so many young men looking to Sigma Phi Epsilon as the fraternity of the future, we hope (and need) to expand our programs to provide a positive undergraduate experience. Your contributions will continue to make that possible. To each of you—thank you.

Who Gave in 2001?

Why I Give . . .

Why I Give . . .

"As an undergraduate, I never thought about giving until I attended the Ruck Leadership Institute. After that experience, I thought, 'How can I not give?' I would like to see more of my undergraduate brothers do the same. It is easy and once you get in the habit, you really feel good about your contribution."

Ben Deal, Colorado State '02

Online Giving

To make your ONLINE gift to the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, go to the SigEp web site at www.sigep.org.

The menu across the top of the homepage has an Educational Foundation tab—just click on it to visit the Foundation section.

Along the left-hand side is a bar for online giving. Click on that and you will go to the secure area to make your gift. This is a secure transaction that will provide your credit card number to Foundation President Chuck White. We will verify your gift with a tax receipt by return mail.

Establish Your Own Endowment

Alumni and friends interested in establishing their own endowment can support a wide variety of programs by making gifts earmarked for the specific program that is of interest to them. Ohio State Bulks Up Sound Body Program

Dennis Kaps gives his brothers a lift at Ohio State

As sound body chair, Dennis Kaps, Ohio State '02, is helping his chapter set and achieve its goals. As a certified personal trainer, Dennis believes that without a sound body one cannot have a sound mind. He encourages everyone to set personal fitness goals and to create a fitness plan to achieve success.

Dennis has committed himself to learning as much as he can about diet and exercise, and this knowledge is helping the rest of the chapter live the Balanced Man ideal. Brothers with similar goals are grouped together so that they can encourage each other to reach their individual fitness goals.

The chapter house has a gym in its basement complete with an elliptical machine, dumbbells, weight benches, and a squat rack. The undergraduates partnered with their Alumni and Volunteer Corporation to raise the necessary funds to tear out the bar and replace it with a first-class work-out facility. This creates an environment that is conducive to healthy programming.

The Chapter News section of the SigEp Journal is news provided by undergraduates and alumni of Sigma Phi Epsilon. The stories are listed in alphabetical order according to state. If you have any chapter news that you would like to see published in the Journal, please email Scott Thompson at scott.thompson@sigep.net or call him at (804) 353-1901, ext. 339.

Sound Mind And Sound Body...In Action

Colorado State—

Colorado Gamma partnered with the Denver HIV/AIDS Foundation and hosted an event at the chapter house where several speakers from the Foundation, two who have AIDS, came to speak and take questions. The chapter learned about living with life-changing choices and decisions.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian—

The brothers of Texas Upsilon and Texas Gamma held a joint Sound Mind event in Dallas with TCU Philosophy Professor Dr. Darren Middleton.

Dr. Middleton spoke to the chapters on the foundations of the ancient Greek philosophy of Sound Mind, Sound Body in everyday living through the Balanced Man concept.

He believes that if a SigEp performs just one Sound Mind, Sound Body event daily, whether it's yoga, a museum tour, playing an instrument, or seeing a guest lecture such as this one, that brother will begin to cultivate a fulfilled sense of being. The list is endless, and the more often he works his mind and body to take himself out of his "comfort zone," the more confident and self-aware that he will become. Living the best life possible through just one Sound Mind, Sound Body activity per day will ultimately result in increased athletic prowess, better grades, and better developed personal skills.

Texas A&M-Corpus Christi

Texas Chi is putting Sound Mind, Sound Body into action. The chapter participates in TACKLE at the campus Glasscock Fitness Memorial Center.

The TACKLE program awards points for various fitness activities. Members who achieve 100+ points are recognized at chapter meetings. To help round out their development of a Sound Mind, the chapter and their dates attended the Nutcracker Ballet during the Christmas season.

Wisconsin

The chapter has a "Balanced Minute" at every chapter meeting - chapter members recognize fellow chapter brothers for specific things they did to pursue the Balanced Man ideal throughout the previous week.

At the conclusion of the "Balanced Minute," the chapter awards the "Balanced Man of the Week." The winner gets a framed certificate and a written description of the winner's accomplishments. His photo is placed just inside the entrance to the chapter house serving as a constant reminder to chapter members. Visitors to the chapter house see the chapter's commitment to the Balanced Man ideal.

Colorado Mourns Loss of Beloved Governor

In 1962, John A. Love, Denver '38, was elected the 36th Governor of Colorado. This would be his first of three consecutive terms as Governor, a first in Colorado's history.

Just 25 years earlier, Love was a member of the SigEp chapter at Denver and an outgoing volunteer with Republican Alf Landon's presidential campaign against Franklin Roosevelt.

Love continued his life in politics until 1973 when he lost his re-election campaign for Governor.

Life after politics included teaching history at Northern Colorado University.

Love served Colorado during some of its most tumultuous times and never lost his love of the political arena. Many said he served with virtue and diligence—two things he learned as a SigEp.

Love was succeeded by another SigEp, Roy Romer, Colorado State '50.

national association of the $17 billion in-store advertising industry.

In this capacity, Smith is POPAI's first-ever board chairman from a brand marketer, rather than point-of-purchase producer company. William, and his wife Debbie, have three sons.

Come Fly With Me, Come Fly Away

David Glover on the cover of Hang Gliding Magazine.

At age 21, David Glover, Oklahoma '85, did not know where his career would end up.

After leaving Sigma Phi Epsilon National Headquarters as Director of Chapter Services, David took a vacation to the historic Outer Banks of North Carolina. While there he took a hang gliding lesson and has been in love with the sport ever since.

Glover has recently broken the world record in distance to goal hang gliding. He rode his hang glider from Zapata, Texas, to Rock Spring, a total of 220 miles. This feat was 20 miles better than the previous record for distance. He spent seven hours in flight. From 2000-01 he was President of the United States Hang Gliders Association. Currently he is a dealer of European hang gliding equipment and organizes racing competitions. David has taken over 5,000 people up with him in his tandem hang glider to experience motorless flying.

Charles N. White, Jr., Western Michigan '62, is President of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation and past Executive Director of Sigma Phi Epsilon. He currently resides in Richmond, Virginia with his wife Susan.

Foundation for the Future

Dear Brothers,

This issue of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal provides an opportunity to say thank you to the alumni, parents and friends who make a difference by investing in Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Our Fraternity is doing something really important that no other campus organization is doing. As Sigma Phi Epsilon successfully brings to life the Balanced Man Ideal, Sound mind and Sound body, it is poised to become the most important influence on the lives of our 14,000 undergraduate brothers.

Programs that have a consistent reference to Sound Mind/Sound Body have been developed with the support of alumni, parents and friends who contribute to the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's emphasis on nurturing a sound mind, able to make the best use of the college years to prepare for a successful life, and a sound body, cared for through nutrition and exercise, essential to house a sound mind, serves our Brothers well as they establish their life patterns ... healthy patterns of living.

Fraternities that are focused on providing just a fun social experience are no longer relevant and are not welcome on campus by faculty and administrators.

It has never been more important for Sigma

Phi Epsilon to accelerate its energy and focus on the basic concepts related to the Balanced Man that continue to evolve in all it does to help the success of our undergraduates.

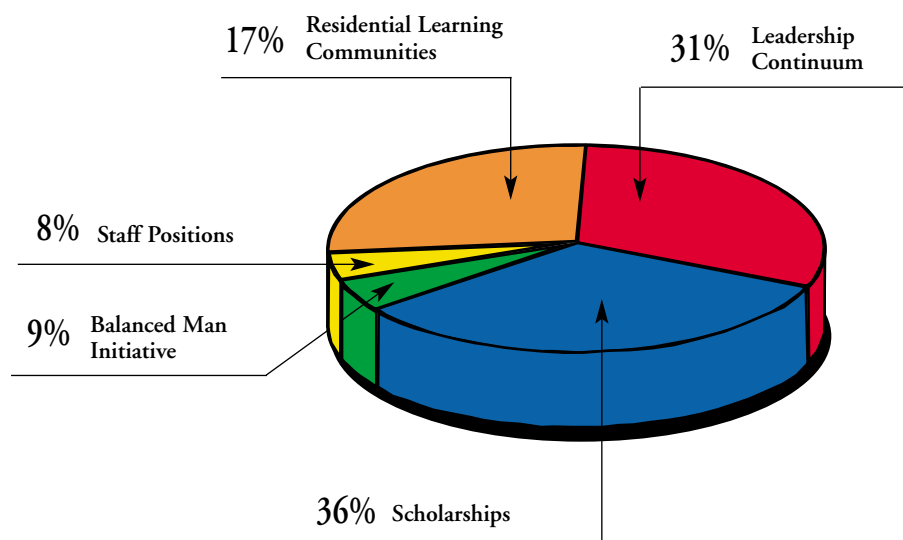

The resources to help energize these concepts are provided by the Educational Foundation as grants for Sigma Phi Epsilon scholarship and leadership programs. Because of the strong support of alumni, parents and friends this support will reach the $1 million level for the first time in 2002.

Key to the Foundation's work to support the undergraduate chapter is understanding that the chapter has to be both challenging intellectually while at the same time providing a safe haven for testing new ideas and operating in a non-judgmental environment. The best fraternity experience provides interaction and mentoring with alumni and faculty while expanding horizons and ensuring success with family, career and community.

Thank you, members of the donor family of our Educational Foundation. You are making great things possible for our undergraduates.

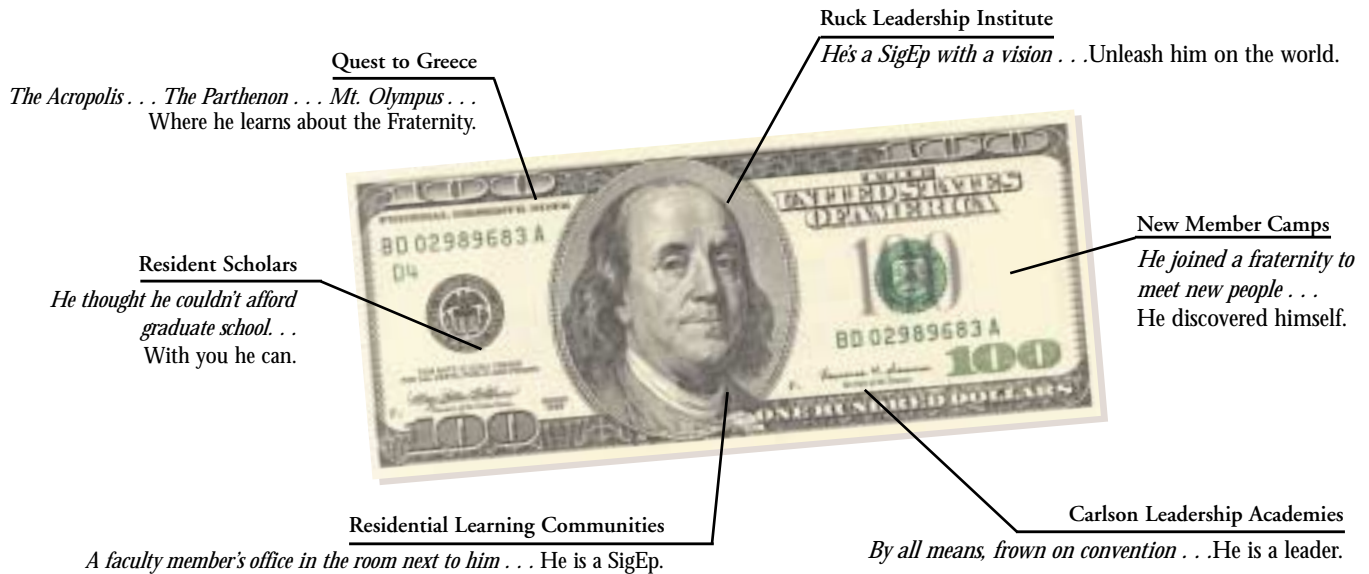

Warm Regards,
Charles N. White, Jr., CFRE, President,
